The incandescent bulb, invented by Thomas Edison, has been a symbol of inspiration for at least a century. Giving light to millions of people, today it has been universally equated with an idea of metaphysical epiphany. The feather is more powerful than the sword. Through the few registration, it has represented the diffusion of education and civilization. The gear wheel has the ability to move objects, transforming the world into a better place. As a cornerstone of progress, it improves the systems ranges more efficient. These objects appear in the quadrants of the logo of our school because they represent ideas that have the power to change the world, allowing, encouraging and making reality dreams and visions.
